

WebTalk with RESAMA:

“Climate Justice and Human (Im)Mobility in Light of the Inter-American Court’s Advisory Opinion 32-2025”

7 November 2025

16:30 - 17:30 CET

Join us for an engaging discussion on the Inter-American Court’s groundbreaking Advisory Opinion 32-2025 and its implications for climate justice, migration, and human rights in Latin America and the Caribbean. This session will discuss how this landmark interpretation contributes to the recognition and protection of individuals and communities displaced by climate-related events, while advancing the development of climate justice in Latin America and the Caribbean.

CHAIR: Beatriz Felipe Pérez CICrA Justicia Ambiental

SPEAKERS:

Marilia Gagliardi

RESAMA, Expert in human rights, migration, gender, and climate justice

Giovanna Gini

Researcher on Climate Mobilities and Planned Relocations

Explore how environmental degradation, displacement, and international law intersect - and what this means for vulnerable communities.

Organized within the Erasmus+ Climate Justice Living Lab (CJLL) project

Register here

by 6 November

Co-funded by the European Union

